

The New Face of Opiate Use

A whole new generation of opiate users has appeared in the suburbs and the middle classes who have no knowledge of harm reduction practices and no access to harm reduction information and services and they are dying. That's why in late 2015 HAMS is planning to publish

An Opiate Users Safety Manual

Be on the lookout for this book.

We also welcome input from anyone who is experienced in working with opiate users who feel they have something to contribute. Contact
